ACTIVITIES AND SUMMARY REPORT

OF THE

COMMITTEE ON THE BUDGET

SECOND SESSION

Mr. RYAN of Wisconsin, from the Committee on the Budget, submitted the following

R E P O R T

JURISDICTION AND FUNCTIONS

OF THE COMMITTEE

The Congressional Budget and Impoundment Control Act of 1974 established the Committees on the Budget for the House of Representatives and the Senate. These committees are responsible for developing and reporting the annual concurrent resolution on the budget ("budget resolution"), for assembling and reporting any reconciliation legislation required by that resolution, and for overseeing the congressional and statutory budget process.

Once adopted, the budget resolution provides an overall framework and plan for Congressional consideration of spending, revenue, and debt limit legislation. It sets a ceiling on total spending and a floor on total revenues to be collected. It also provides an allocation of spending authority to each committee of Congress, both the appropriations committees and among the various authorizing committees. The House and Senate enforce the aggregate spending and revenue levels as well as the committee allocations set by the budget resolution, through points of order that govern the consideration of legislation.

The budget resolution may also include the optional reconciliation process, which directs authorizing committees to revise programs under their jurisdiction in order to adjust either projected spending or revenues by specified amounts. If more than one committee receives reconciliation instructions, the Budget Committee is responsible for assembling the reports submitted by the various committees for consideration on the House floor. The budget reconciliation process is used when changes in entitlement or tax law are needed to implement the plan set out in the budget resolution: to reconcile actual spending and revenue in law with the guidelines set out in the resolution.

In response to reconciliation instructions, the various committees report their legislative recommendations to the Budget Committee. The Budget Committee then assembles the legislation into an omnibus legislative package without making any substantive revisions for consideration by the House. The Budget Committee not only has jurisdiction over budget resolutions and reconciliation bills, it also has legislative jurisdiction over major elements of the budget process and various statutory controls over the Federal budget.

When the House of Representatives adopted Rules for the 104th Congress (House Resolution 6) on January 5, 1995, the Budget Committee achieved for the first time legislative jurisdiction over major elements of the congressional budget process and various statutory controls over the Federal budget. In adopting the Rules of the House of Representatives for the 105th Congress (House Resolution 5) on January 7, 1997, the House extended the Budget Committee's legislative jurisdiction to include not only the congressional budget process but the budget process in general. The Committee's jurisdictional statement, House Rule X, clause 1(d), now reads as follows:

(1) Concurrent resolutions on the budget (as defined in section 3(4) of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974), other matters required to be referred to the committee under titles III and IV of that Act, and other measures setting forth appropriate levels of budget totals for the United States Government.

(2) Budget process generally.

(3) Establishment, extension, and enforcement of special controls over the Federal budget, including the budgetary treatment of off-budget Federal agencies and measures providing exemption from reduction under any order issued under part C of the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985.

Under its jurisdiction, the Budget Committee has exclusive jurisdiction over both budgetary levels and budgetary concepts. Under subparagraph (2), the Budget Committee has primary jurisdiction over the budget process, as well as, secondary jurisdiction over purely procedural aspects of the congressional budget process. Finally under subparagraph (3), the Budget Committee has exclusive jurisdiction over the establishment, extension, and enforcement of direct and discretionary spending limits, pay-go requirements, and other special budgetary mechanisms to control spending, the deficit, or the Federal budget, including the sequestration process.

In addition to its legislative duties, the Budget Committee continues to have responsibilities for oversight and studies. These responsibilities include oversight of the Congressional Budget Office; study of the outlay effects of existing and proposed legislation; study of off-budget entities; study of tax expenditures; and study of proposals to improve and facilitate the congressional budget process.

SUMMARY OF ACTIVITIES

FISCAL YEAR 2014 BUDGET RESOLUTION

On March 13, 2013, the Committee on the Budget marked up the fiscal year 2014 concurrent resolution on the budget, House Concurrent Resolution 25 (113th Congress). The report accompanying House Concurrent Resolution 25 (113th Congress), House Report 113-17, was filed on March 15, 2013. This report established allocations of spending authority to House committees and identified accounts eligible for advance appropriations.

The Committee on Rules reported a rule (House Resolution 122) providing for the consideration of House Concurrent Resolution 25 (113th Congress). The rule provided for four hours of general debate: three hours controlled by the Chair and Ranking Minority Member of the Committee on the Budget, equally divided; and one hour on the subject of economic goals and policies equally divided between the Chair and Ranking Minority Member of the Joint Economic Committee or their designees.

The Resolution specified certain amendments in order and waived all points of order against consideration of the concurrent resolution.

The House passed House Resolution 122 on March 19, 2013. After the adoption of House Resolution 122, floor debate on House Concurrent Resolution 25 proceeded on March 19–21, 2013.

The Committee of the Whole proceeded with four hours of general debate on the resolution and then proceeded to full substitute amendments:

Amendment No. 1: An amendment in the nature of a substitute offered by Representative Mulvaney [SC-5] was defeated. Failed by recorded vote: 154-261 (Roll no. 83).

Amendment No. 2: An amendment in the nature of a substitute offered by Representative Scott [VA-3] was defeated. Failed by recorded vote: 105-305, 1 Present (Roll no. 84).

Amendment No. 3: An amendment in the nature of a substitute offered by Representative Grijalva [AZ-3] was defeated. Failed by recorded vote: 84-327, 1 Present (Roll no. 85).

Amendment No. 4: An amendment in the nature of a substitute offered by Representative Woodall [GA-7] was defeated. Failed by recorded vote: 104-132, 171 Present (Roll no. 86).

Amendment No. 5: An amendment in the nature of a substitute offered by Representative Van Hollen [MD-8] was defeated. Failed by recorded vote: 165-253 (Roll no. 87).

The fiscal year 2014 concurrent resolution on the budget passed the House on March 21, 2013. On agreeing to the resolution: Agreed to by the Yeas and Nays: 221-207 (Roll no. 88).

On March 22, 2013, the House-passed fiscal year 2014 concurrent resolution on the budget (House Concurrent Resolution 25) was received in the Senate and placed on the Senate Calendar under General Orders Calendar No. 33.

On October 16, 2013, Mr. Ryan [WI-1] made a unanimous consent request that the House be considered to have taken from the Speaker's table S. Con. Res. 8; adopted an amendment in the nature of a substitute consisting of the text of H. Con. Res. 25, as adopted by the House; adopted such concurrent resolution, as amended; insisted on its amendment; and requested a conference with the Senate thereon; and during the remainder of the 113th Congress, it shall not be in order to offer a motion under clause 7(c) of rule 22 with respect to S. Con. Res. 8. This unanimous consent request was agreed to without objection. The Speaker appointed conferees. The Senate disagreed to the House amendment, but agreed to the request for a conference, and appointed conferees.

On October 17, 2013, a message on the Senate's action was sent to the House.

On October 30, 2013, the Budget Conference Committee held its first meeting.

On November 13, 2013, the Budget Conference Committee held its second meeting.

While the conferees did not complete action on S. Con. Res. 8, Congress did put in place a concurrent resolution on the budget by using another legislative vehicle. On December 12, 2013, Mr. Ryan [WI-1] moved that the House recede and concur with an amendment in the Senate amendment to House Joint Resolution 59. On motion that the House recede and concur with an amendment in the Senate amendment: Agreed to by recorded vote: 332-94 (Roll no. 640). This House amendment, the Bipartisan Budget Act of 2013, included legislation putting in place a budget resolution for fiscal year 2014 as well as other changes in law. It also provided a mechanism to put in place a budget resolution for fiscal year 2015 if Congress did not complete action on a budget resolution.

Pursuant to the Bipartisan Budget Act of 2013, Public Law 113-67, Chairman Ryan submitted for printing in the Congressional Record committee allocations, aggregates, and other budgetary levels for fiscal year 2014 on January 27, 2014. This statement can be found on pages H1428–H1429 of the Congressional Record (113th Congress). The Committee’s print on the Bipartisan Budget Act of 2013 provides the legislative history of this law.

FISCAL YEAR 2015 BUDGET RESOLUTION

On April 2, 2014, the Committee on the Budget marked up the fiscal year 2015 concurrent resolution on the budget, House Concurrent Resolution 96 (113th Congress). The report accompanying House Concurrent Resolution 96 (113th Congress), House Report 113-403, was filed on April 4, 2014. This report established allocations of spending authority to House committees and identified accounts eligible for advance appropriations in fiscal year 2015 and beyond.

The Committee on Rules reported a rule (House Resolution 544) providing for the consideration of House Concurrent Resolution 96 (113th Congress). The rule provided for four hours of general debate: three hours controlled by the Chair and Ranking Minority Member of the Committee on the Budget, equally divided; and one hour on the subject of economic goals and policies equally divided between the Chair and Ranking Minority Member of the Joint Economic Committee or their designees.

The Resolution specified certain amendments in order and waived all points of order against consideration of the concurrent resolution.

The House passed House Resolution 544 on April 8, 2014. After the adoption of House Resolution 544, floor debate on House Concurrent Resolution 96 proceeded on April 9 and 10, 2014.

The Committee of the Whole proceeded with four hours of general debate on the resolution and then proceeded to full substitute amendments:

Amendment No. 1: An amendment in the nature of a substitute offered by Representative Mulvaney [SC-5] was defeated. Failed by recorded vote: 2-413 (Roll no. 171).

H.R. 1871, Baseline Reform Act of 2014

On June 25, 2013, the Committee on the Budget reported H.R. 1871, the Baseline Reform Act of 2014. This bill addresses the baseline's assumption of higher spending each year and removes this pro-spending bias. Specifically, this bill removes the assumption that discretionary spending will increase by inflation in each year of the baseline. In addition, it removes the exceptions to the general inflationary rule for expiring housing contracts, social-insurance administrative expenses, and annualization of federal-employee pay. It also codifies the Congressional Budget Office's current practice of providing a long-term budget outlook no later than July 1 each year. Finally, the Baseline Reform Act does not change how mandatory or revenue baselines are calculated. H.R. 1871 passed the House on April 8, 2014. On passage: Passed by recorded vote: 230-185 (Roll no. 168).

H.R. 1874, Pro-Growth Budgeting Act of 2014

On July 19, 2013, the Committee on the Budget reported H.R. 1874, the Pro-Growth Budgeting Act of 2014. This bill requires the Congressional Budget Office to prepare an analysis of the effect that major legislation would have on the U.S. economy. This macro-economic impact analysis would be supplemental information in addition to the official congressional cost estimate of the legislation. H.R. 1874 passed the House on April 4, 2014. On passage: Passed by recorded vote: 224-182 (Roll no. 164).

House Amendment to H. J. Res. 59, Bipartisan Budget Act of 2013

The Bipartisan Budget Act of 2013 (BBA) was a House amendment to the Senate amendment to House Joint Resolution 59. The BBA established an enforceable budget for fiscal year 2014 as well as a process for the timely adoption of an enforceable budget for fiscal year 2015. Additionally, the BBA authorized an increase in the caps on discretionary spending for fiscal years 2014 and 2015. It specifically provided $63 billion in higher discretionary-caps relief over two years, split evenly between defense and non-defense programs. This discretionary-cap relief is more than fully offset by $85 billion in savings elsewhere in the budget through specific, concrete spending cuts, which eliminate waste, cut corporate welfare, and take steps toward real reform and not tax increases. Among these offsets, the BBA extended the mandatory sequester for two more years, fiscal years 2022 and 2023, which will result in $28 billion in savings. The legislation reduces the deficit by $23 billion over ten years.

H.R. 1869, Biennial Budgeting and Enhanced Oversight Act of 2014

On March 21, 2014, the Committee on the Budget reported H.R. 1869, the Biennial Budgeting and Enhanced Oversight Act of 2014. This bill amends the Congressional Budget Act, House rules, laws governing the contents of the President's budget submission, and appropriations bills to provide for a two-year budget, appropriations, and authorization process.

H.R. 1872, Budget and Accounting Transparency Act of 2014

On March 18, 2014, the Committee on the Budget reported H.R. 1872, the Budget and Accounting Transparency Act of 2014. This bill requires fair value accounting for federal credit programs. It brings Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac on-budget and requires that agencies make public the budgetary justification materials prepared in support of their request for use of taxpayer dollars. In addition, it requires the CBO and OMB to conduct a study and make recommendations on extending this fair value methodology to federal insurance programs, as well as conducting a study on the use of budgetary terms related to money collected by the Federal Government. H.R. 1872 passed the House on April 7, 2014. On passage: Passed by recorded vote: 230-165 (Roll no. 166).

BUDGET ENFORCEMENT

One of the responsibilities of the Committee on the Budget is to monitor legislation to be considered on the floor of the House and what implications such legislation would have on spending and revenue. The Committee provided ongoing oversight of the Office of Management and Budget's implementation of budget submission, control, execution, and enforcement procedures under the Budget and Accounting Act of 1921, the Congressional Budget Act of 1974, the Budget Enforcement Act of 1990, the Statutory Pay-As-You-Go Act of 2010, and the Budget Control Act of 2011.

Pursuant to Section 312 of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974 and rule XXIX of the Rules of the House of Representatives, the Chairman is provided authority to give guidance concerning the impact of a legislative proposition on the levels of new budget authority, outlays, direct spending, new entitlement authority, and revenues.

Additionally, the Committee monitored reclassifications of budget accounts, re-estimates of the subsidies of credit programs, consistency in cost estimates for direct spending and tax bills, compliance with the relevant laws in the development of budget projections, and changes in spend-out rates for discretionary programs.

The Committee provided guidance to the Committee on Appropriations, the authorizing committees, and the Committee on Rules on spending and tax legislation to enforce the appropriate levels in the budget resolution as required under sections 302(f), 303(a) and 311(a) of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974 or violate any budget-related provisions of the Rules of the House of Representatives.

ECONOMIC POLICY

The Committee has studied, and will continue to study, how economic policies affect the Federal budget.

OVERSIGHT ACTIVITIES

The primary responsibility of the Budget Committee is the development of a concurrent budget resolution that sets spending and revenue levels in aggregate and across major functional categories. These budget functions encompass all Federal programs and activities. Certain programs are considered off-budget, such as Social Security and the Postal Service, and some are considered non-budgetary, such as the Federal Reserve.

The subject matter of the budget is inherently broad, but the Committee's formal oversight responsibility focuses on law governing the budget process and the agencies responsible for administering elements of those laws. Under clauses 1(d)(2) and (3) of House rule X, the major laws falling within its oversight are the Budget and Accounting Act of 1921, the Congressional Budget Act of 1974, the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985, the Statutory Pay-As-You-Go Act of 2010, and the Budget Control Act of 2011. The two agencies with primary responsibility for administering elements of these laws and hence which fall under the Committee's jurisdiction are the Office of Management and Budget and the Congressional Budget Office.

In addition to these general oversight responsibilities, the Budget Committee has the special oversight responsibility under clause 3(c) of House rule X to study the effect on budget outlays of existing and proposed legislation and under clause 4(b)(6) of House rule X to request and evaluate continuing studies of tax expenditures.

The House Budget Committee met on February 13, 2013 to organize for the 113th Congress. In addition to adopting rules of procedure, the Committee also adopted a written oversight plan. The Committee held hearings in the process of developing the annual concurrent budget resolution. Additionally, the Committee received testimony from Members of Congress, Cabinet level and other Federal officials, State and local officials, and expert witnesses to review the budget and economic outlook, the President's budget submissions and other budget and economic matters.

The Committee's oversight plan calls for continuous assessment of the performance of Federal agencies in both the administration and service delivery by reviewing performance data in the President's budget submissions and the relevant reports and audits of the Government Accountability Office and the Offices of the Inspectors General.

Pursuant to the Committee's request, the Government Accountability Office published the following reports:

March 1 Joint Committee Sequestration for Fiscal Year 2013 [7/31/2013]

Budget Issues: Key Questions to Consider When Evaluating Balances in Federal Accounts [9/30/2013]

Federal User Fees: Fee Design Options and Implications for Managing Revenue Instability [9/30/2013]

Fiscal Exposures: Improving Cost Recognition in the Federal Budget [10/29/2013]

Sequestration: Observations on the Department of Defense's Approach in Fiscal Year 2013 [11/7/2013]

2013 Sequestration: Selected Federal Agencies Reduced Some Services and Investments, While Taking Short-Term Actions to Mitigate Effects [5/28/2014]

The oversight plan specifically calls on the Committee to study the budgetary effects of existing law and proposed legislation, as well as government regulation, on government spending and to explore ways of reducing waste, fraud, and abuse in government agencies. Furthermore, the Committee drew on the authorizing committees' Views and Estimates on the President's budget, that are submitted to the Committee pursuant to section 301(d) of the Congressional Budget Act, to coordinate its oversight activities with other committees.

The House Budget Committee will continue to review the budgetary treatment of, assistance to, and ongoing operations of: Federal National Mortgage Association (Fannie Mae) and Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corporation (Freddie Mac). Moreover, the Committee plan calls for continued oversight of the Office of Management and Budget's implementation of budget submission, control, execution, and enforcement procedures under the Budget and Accounting Act of 1921, the Congressional Budget Act of 1974, the Budget Enforcement Act of 1990, the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985, the Statutory Pay-As-You-Go Act of 2010, and other applicable laws. The oversight plan also calls for the evaluation and study of direct spending and tax policies.

Expanding Opportunity in America: A Discussion Draft from the House Budget Committee [7/24/2014]

House Budget Committee Democratic Caucus
113th Congress, Second Session
Summary Report

The primary goal of the federal budget should be to reflect the values and priorities of the American people. That is why the Democratic budget focuses on our policies to expand the economy, boost job growth, and provide for more broadly shared prosperity. Our budget also reinforces the federal commitment to health care and retirement security, and places the budget on a sustainable fiscal path. Those are some of the goals and policies behind the amendments Democrats proposed to the fiscal year 2015 Republican budget resolution in the Budget Committee markup on April 2, and behind the alternative budget resolution that Democrats offered on the House floor on April 10.

In addition to considering the budget resolution, in the second session of the 113th Congress the Committee held a number of hearings described as a “progress report” on the War on Poverty. The testimony highlighted key principles that should be the end result of any changes to federal anti-poverty programs, including: helping more individuals climb the ladder of opportunity from poverty to the middle class by expanding access to tools necessary for self-sufficiency and by making work pay; providing a decent safety net for those unable to support themselves; and serving as an effective automatic stabilizer during economic downturns and responding in real time to increased need.

The Democratic Caucus of the Budget Committee published a variety of materials that highlight our objections to Republican budget legislation and the disconnect between the Chairman’s proposal to address poverty and the Republican budget that guts the safety net, as well as materials that explain the Democratic approach and proposals.

Legislation Offered by the Democratic Caucus
Fiscal Year 2015 Budget Resolution

On April 2, 2014, during the House Budget Committee markup of the Republican budget resolution for fiscal year 2015, Democrats offered 27 different amendments to improve the budget by putting Americans back to work in the short-term, growing the economy through wise investments, protecting the middle class from tax increases, protecting government guarantees to our seniors, preserving the safety net for those who need it, and ensuring truth and transparency in budgeting. None of the amendments would have increased the deficit and, in fact, several would have reduced the deficit. The amendments offset any proposed spending by reducing future unnecessary funding for the war or by cutting unproductive tax breaks – including subsidies for big oil companies, egregious tax breaks such as tax deductions for corporate jets, and additional tax breaks for the wealthiest in society – closing tax loopholes in the U.S. international corporate tax system that result in fewer American jobs, or implementing selected business tax reform proposals from the Republican tax reform plan. Republicans rejected every Democratic amendment.

On April 10, 2014, on the House floor, Budget Committee Democrats offered a substitute to the Republican 2015 budget resolution. The Democratic budget supports investments in job creation and education, tax reform that promotes the growth of American businesses and tax fairness, and policies that support access to health care, retirement security, and a safe and secure nation. It adheres to the discretionary spending caps established for 2015 by the Bipartisan Budget Act of 2013. But to support additional key investments in jobs, economic opportunity and national security, the Democratic resolution supports additional discretionary funding for 2015, divided equally between defense and non-defense, once offsets are identified. To adequately serve the nation's needs, it eliminates the sequester on mandatory spending entirely, eliminates the non-defense discretionary sequester starting in 2016, and keeps the nation secure with defense funding at the President's requested level. It is committed to fiscal responsibility, with debt declining as a share of the economy at the end of the budget window.
