

CHAIR JODEY ARRINGTON

HOUSE BUDGET COMMITTEE

TODAY:

House Budget Committee to Markup Concurrent Resolution on the Budget for Fiscal Year 2025

WASHINGTON, D.C. – Today, Chairman Jodey Arrington (R-TX) released the following statement ahead of today’s markup of the concurrent resolution on the budget:

“Today, President Biden will try to convince the American people that the state of the union is good and our lives are better.

They will be empty words from a 50-year politician. Political theatre and hollow rhetoric fail to meet this historic and consequential moment in the life of our nation.

Meanwhile, Republicans on the Budget Committee are taking action to pass a budget blueprint that will restore fiscal responsibility by reining in spending, reigniting economic growth, and putting our nation on a path to balance.”

The House Budget Committee’s FY 2025 Concurrent Resolution on the Budget is a much-needed roadmap on the path toward fiscal responsibility, economic freedom, and unleashing prosperity in America again.

Click HERE for the executive summary of the Budget Resolution.

Click HERE to see the official markup notice.

Click HERE to watch the House Budget Committee’s markup live.

