BUDGET

HOUSE REPUBLICANS

REP. JASON SMITH, REPUBLICAN LEADER

When asked to defend a massive spending agenda, President Biden said:

"What would they have me cut? What would they have me leave out?"

We are glad you asked, Mr. President.

Déjà Vu

The New York Times is reporting that the Biden Administration may be asking Congress for more money to "combat COVID-19":

"Xavier Becerra, the secretary of health and human services, hinted on Tuesday that the Biden administration may need to ask Congress for more money to fight the coronavirus pandemic..."

But wait, didn't Democrats pass $2 TRILLION for COVID-19 already this year? Where'd all that money go?

Well, as we have pointed out, a lot has gone to waste, fraud, and abuse. And, of course, LESS THAN 9% of that bill was actually dedicated to crushing the virus through public health spending. Far more was devoted to bailouts for the Democrats' political allies.

Only Washington Democrats could take $2 trillion from American taxpayers and come out less prepared to combat COVID-19.

Stay tuned for more.
