Chairman Arrington and Ranking Member Boyle:

The American people are suffering while Congress fails to secure the border and rein in the inflation crisis fueled by unchecked government spending.

Conservatives have pleaded for responsible spending, a balanced budget, and real border security for years. The House Budget Committee's FY25 budget resolution provides a rare moment of sound conservative leadership, calling for fiscal responsibility and meaningful border security—the top two priorities of the American people.

This budget resolution represents a clear roadmap for Americans to hold their elected officials accountable during the annual appropriations process. We look forward to that work.
